

In Spring 2014, TOWES launched an innovative new line of web-based assessment products. A launch event was held in Calgary and was attended by Government of Canada representatives and distinguished guests from across the country.

Anna Kae Todd, VP Learning at Bow Valley College welcomes guests to the College.

TOWES Director, Conrad Murphy provides an overview of the new TOWES web-based assessments.

Silvano Tocchi, Director General, Workplace Partnerships Directorate, Employment and Social Development Canada speaks on behalf of the federal government.

Scott Murray, DataAngel spoke about the importance of literacy and essential skills in the Canadian economy.

Guests from Calgary and across Canada attend the event.

TOWES Staff Members, Tonya Intawongsa, Emma Sacco and Fatma Suleiman welcome guests as they arrive.

TOWES Production Manager, Alisa Foreman and TOWES Business and New Product Development Specialist, Melissa Gardner speak to guests at the event.

TOWES Business Leader, Krista Medhurst with guests.

TOWES Guests

Spring 2014